

Joanna Hsin-Ju Ting, WPTA Taiwan President

Since graduating from Peabody Conservatory of Music, Taiwanese pianist Joanna Hsin-Ju Ting has been active as a soloist, performer with orchestra, chamber musician and accompanist in Taiwan, the United States, Thailand and China.

Ting is presently a full-time Associate Professor at the National Chiayi University in Taiwan, and she also teaches at the University of Taipei. Since 2016, she has also been a repeat invitation on the artistic faculty of the InterHarmony International Music Festival in Italy.

In three consecutive years in her native country, Ting won Taiwan's National Music Competition, which presented her recitals in major concert halls in Taipei since the age of 13. Since then, she has performed as soloist with Brevard Symphony Orchestra, Eastern Music Festival Orchestra, Taipei Symphony, National Chiayi University Symphony Orchestra and National Chiayi University Wind Ensemble, amongst others.

Ting is also a frequent chamber musician, and her performances have been broadcast on IC Radio in Taiwan.

